In-store Price Promotions

A promotion is a special retail price for a period of time, to promote or clear stock of a product or selected category.

Procedure to Create an In-store Promotion

Hints and Tips

- ✓ The Promotions tab also lists any promotions imported from HOST.
- ✓ If you want a restricted ability for Managers to create promotions (i.e. so they can respond to competitor pricing), Surefire can use security settings and assign a Manager's Special Role. Users in this role can only create, modify, and delete a promotion which:
  - Has a fixed promotion code, start date, and end date
  - Only affects the current item
  - Is for a new retail price only.
- ✓ Types of promotion:
  - new retail price
  - percentage discount off
  - dollar amount discount off.
- ✓ Loyalty Pricing limits a promotion to customers who add a card or AR code to the sale that's linked to this privilege.
  - Refer to the TECH-4d Configure Special Customer Pricing Fact Sheet.
  - The Loyalty tab lists the active loyalty promotions.

	Price	Margin %
LOYALTY	2	25
VIP PLUS	1.9	31.5769
STAFF	0	100
MANAGER	2.5	0

- ✓ Customer receipts can display a custom message and the saving underneath the product. Refer to TECH-2k Configure POS Customer Receipt Options Fact Sheet.

Description	Total $
PUMP HOUSE WATER	14.00
VIP saving $5.00
*ALLIENS ANTICOL

- ✓ If your store has set a retail price lower than a Head Office HOST price change or promotion, the lowest price will apply at POS.
  - A HOST ticket will still print, but should be ignored.

Procedure to Edit or Delete an In-store Promotion

Hints and Tips

- ✓ If your Head Office permits, you can edit HOST promotions listed on the Promotions tab to match a competitor's price.
  - However, this will be overridden back to the original promotion the next time that HOST is imported.
  - Alternatively, your business may use Managers Special Role (see page 1) to allow Managers to create in-store promotions for this purpose.
- ✓ If you edit a sub-range level promotion, it applies the change against all the other products in the sub-range as well.
  - If you change the promotion to affect 'single item', it deletes the promotions that were against the other products in the sub-range.
- ✓ A Promotion icon is displayed in the Summary Information when the promotion is active.

$2700	Profit	3.68
0.00	Stock On Hand	11.00
- ✓ If you edit an active promotion and click Update, request an automatic label to be generated (in step 6); when you print the ticket, it'll have the revised promotion details, so long as you select a promotion label report.
- ✓ If you edit a future promotion, don't request an automatic label; print tickets in the same way as a new promotion, using the Promotions On category.
- ✓ There are several reports available for promotions, within the Reports -> Deals and Promotions menu.
  - If the report includes a Stocked prompt, you must set this to Y or N, or the report will return blank.
